

Creating Rubrics in D2L

Rubrics created in D2L can be used to guide grading and to communicate to students what is expected on an assignment. This manual will show you how to create a rubric for a D2L assignment, quiz, or discussion.

1. Select Assessments (1) from the navigation bar and click on Rubrics (2).

2. Press the New Rubric button.

Criterion 1 ...

There are two types of rubrics in D2L: Holistic and Analytic. Holistic rubrics are single-criteria rubrics used to evaluate students' overall performance based on predefined achievement levels. Analytic rubrics may contain multiple levels of achievement and assessment criteria to evaluate students based on different criteria using a single rubric.

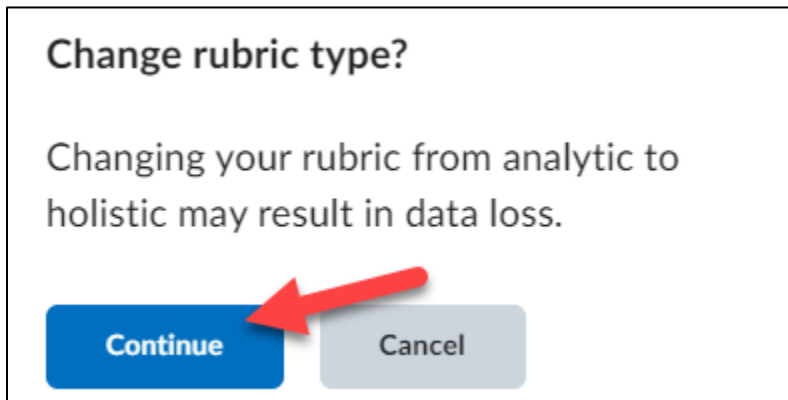

Creating a Holistic Rubric

1. Select Holistic from the rubric Type dropdown list.

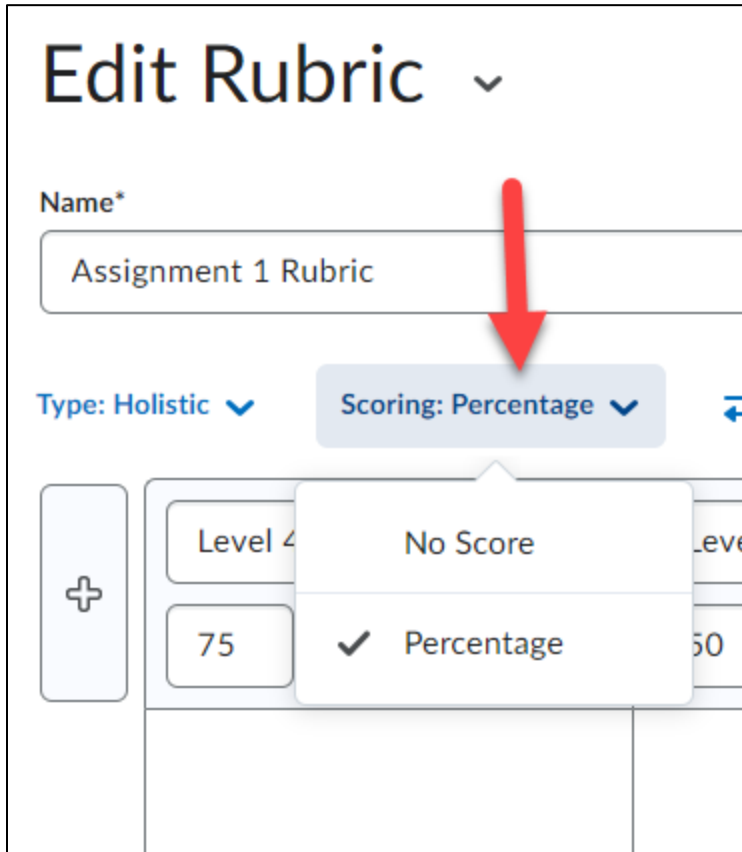

The screenshot shows the 'Edit Rubric' interface. At the top, the title 'Edit Rubric' is displayed with a downward arrow. Below it, the 'Name*' field contains 'Assignment 1 Rubric'. The 'Type' dropdown menu is open, showing 'Holistic' as the selected option (highlighted in light blue) and 'Analytic' as the current selection (marked with a checkmark). A red arrow points to the 'Holistic' option. The 'Scoring' dropdown menu is set to 'Points'. Below these, there is a table with columns for 'Criterion', 'Level', and 'Points'. The first row shows 'Criterion 1' with a plus icon, 'Level 4', and '4' points. The second row shows 'Initial Feedback'.

2. Click Continue on the pop-up window that appears.

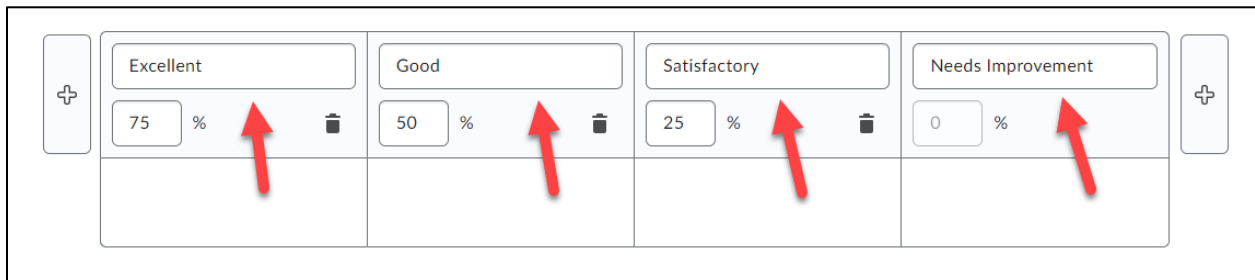

The screenshot shows a pop-up window titled 'Change rubric type?'. The text inside reads: 'Changing your rubric from analytic to holistic may result in data loss.' At the bottom, there are two buttons: 'Continue' (highlighted in blue) and 'Cancel' (gray). A red arrow points to the 'Continue' button.

3. Select a Scoring method: Percentage (default) or No Score.

The screenshot shows the 'Edit Rubric' interface. At the top, the title 'Edit Rubric' is followed by a downward arrow. Below it is a 'Name*' field containing 'Assignment 1 Rubric'. A red arrow points from this field down to the 'Scoring' dropdown menu. The 'Scoring' dropdown is currently set to 'Percentage' and is open, showing two options: 'No Score' and 'Percentage' (which is selected with a checkmark). To the left of the 'Scoring' dropdown is the 'Type: Holistic' dropdown. Below these are several level cards, each with a plus icon, a level name (e.g., 'Level 4'), a score (e.g., '75'), and a percentage (e.g., '50').

4. Enter a name for each level; this will overwrite the default text that appears in each level.

The screenshot shows a table with four columns representing different levels of performance. Each column has a header row with a level name and a score/percentage, and a body row for additional details. Red arrows point to the level names in the header row. The columns are: 'Excellent' (75%), 'Good' (50%), 'Satisfactory' (25%), and 'Needs Improvement' (0%). Each column has a plus icon on the left and a trash icon on the right. The table is enclosed in a container with plus icons on the far left and right.

Excellent	Good	Satisfactory	Needs Improvement
75 %	50 %	25 %	0 %

5. If you chose to use percentage as your scoring method, enter a start range for each level. Your lowest achievement level range should start at 0%, the start range of your second, third, fourth, etc... achievement level will then be the next highest percentage achievable.

+	Excellent	Good	Satisfactory	Needs Improvement	+
	90 % 	80 % 	60 % 	0 %

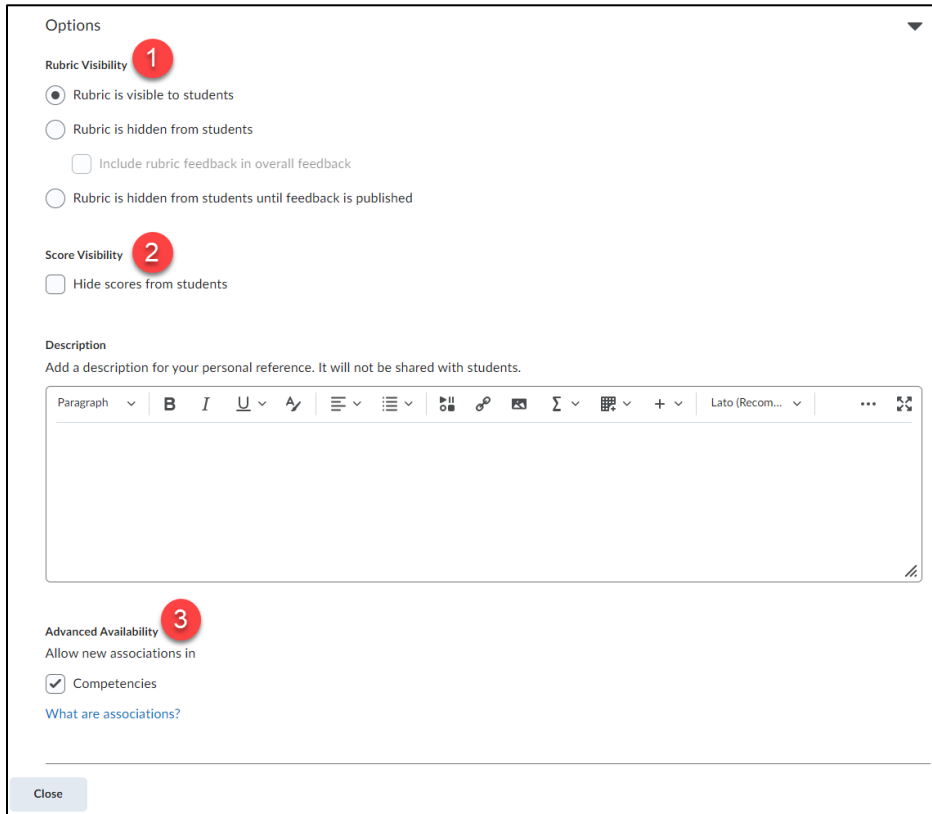

6. Enter a Description for each level to explain what is expected of a student to receive a score in that category.

Excellent
90 %
Your assignment met all specified requirements and you followed all the instructions.

7. You can enter Feedback which will appear to each student scoring within that level (this step is optional).

8. Under Options, you can set the Rubric Visibility (1) and Score Visibility (2). Make sure that the Competencies option is checked so the rubric can be linked to other tools in this course (3).

Creating an Analytic Rubric

1. Make sure the rubric Type selected is Analytic.

2. Select a Scoring method: Points (default), No Score, or Custom Points.

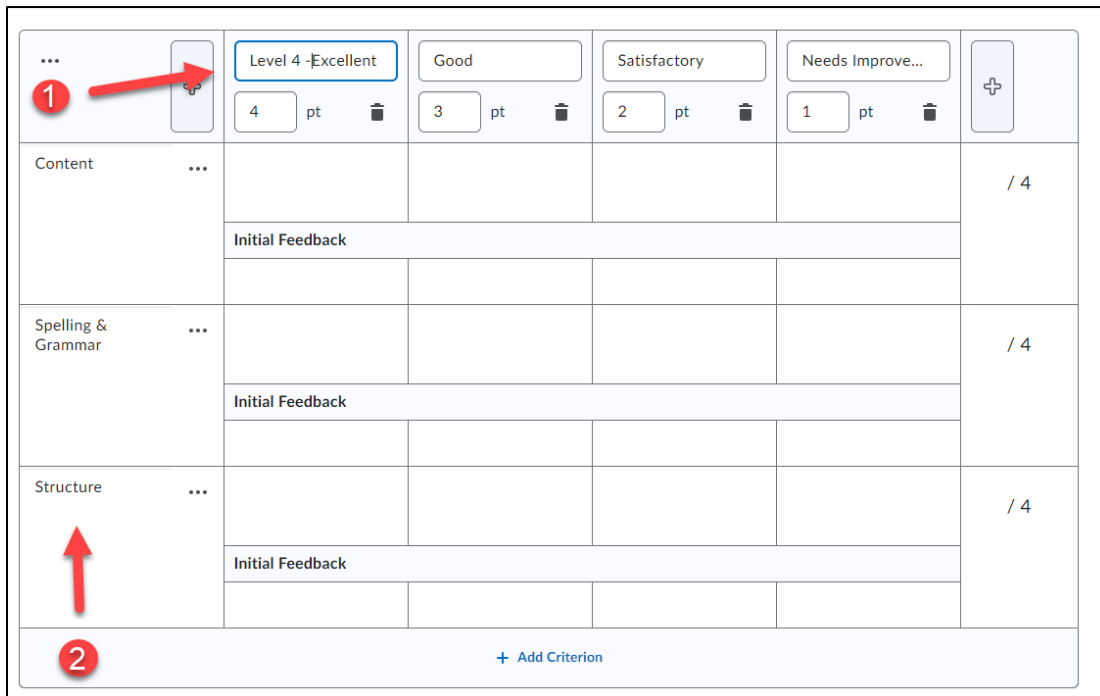

Points: allows you to include points to assess performance. For example, three performance levels for a rubric could be Poor (0 points), Good (75 points), and Excellent (125 points).

Custom Points: allows you the ability to assign different values to different criteria in your rubric, giving more "weight" to one or more criterion than to others. This is the recommended scoring method and the one used in this manual.

The screenshot shows a dropdown menu for selecting a scoring method. At the top, it says "Type: Analytic" and "Scoring: Points". The dropdown menu is open, showing three options: "No Score", "Points" (which is selected and has a checkmark), and "Custom Points". A red arrow points to the "Points" option. Below the dropdown, there is a button labeled "New Criterion".

3. Enter a name for each level (1). Enter a name for each criteria listed (2).

The screenshot shows the rubric creation interface. At the top, there are four columns for performance levels: "Level 4 - Excellent", "Good", "Satisfactory", and "Needs Improve...". Each column has a point value (4, 3, 2, 1) and a trash icon. A red arrow points to the "Level 4 - Excellent" column, and a red circle with the number "1" is next to it. Below the columns, there are three criteria: "Content", "Spelling & Grammar", and "Structure". Each criterion has a table with four columns for the performance levels. The "Content" criterion has a total score of 4. The "Spelling & Grammar" criterion has a total score of 4. The "Structure" criterion has a total score of 4. A red arrow points to the "Structure" criterion, and a red circle with the number "2" is next to it. At the bottom, there is a button labeled "+ Add Criterion".

4. Enter the points a student can receive for each criterion met in each level (1). Enter a description for each criterion in the level (2). The description explains what is expected of a student to receive the points for that criterion.

Note: It is recommended that you make the points for the highest level of your rubric 10 points each.

Congratulations!!!! You have now created an Analytic rubric.

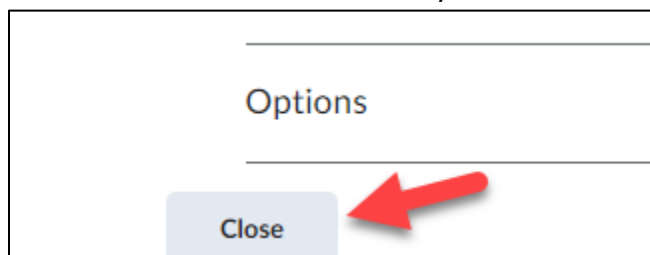

Editing a Rubric

You have the ability to edit a rubric that is not yet linked to course activities for assessment.

1. From the Rubrics tool, click the drop-down menu next to the rubric (1) and select Edit (2).

2. Edit the rubric where necessary and click the Close button when done.

Linking Rubrics to Course Activities

You can link rubrics you create to Dropbox, discussion, and video assignments in your D2L course.

Link to a Dropbox:

1. Edit or create the Dropbox item. On the right panel click the arrow to expand the section (1) and choose Add Rubric (2). Click either Create New or Add Existing (3).

The screenshot shows the 'Edit or Create Dropbox' interface. On the left, there's a form with fields for 'Name *' (containing 'Lorem Ipsum Paper'), 'Grade Out Of' (100 points), 'Due Date' (M/D/YYYY), and 'Instructions' (a text area with a rich text editor). On the right, there's a sidebar with sections: 'Availability Dates & Conditions', 'Submission & Completion', and 'Evaluation & Feedback'. The 'Evaluation & Feedback' section is expanded (callout 1). Under 'Rubrics', there's an 'Add Rubric' button (callout 2) which has a dropdown menu open showing 'Create New' (callout 3) and 'Add Existing'.

2. Select the rubric you would like to link to the Dropbox (1) and click the Add Selected button (2).

The screenshot shows the 'Add Existing Rubric' dialog box. It has a search bar at the top. Below it, there's a list of rubrics: 'Untitled', 'Core Competencies' (selected with a checkmark, callout 1), 'Example', 'Untitled', and 'Assignment 1 Rubric'. At the bottom, there's a blue 'Add Selected' button (callout 2) and a grey 'Cancel' button.

3. Make sure the rubric appears under the rubrics section. Click the Save and Close button.

The screenshot shows the assessment editor interface. On the left, the 'Instructions' section contains a text box with the text: 'Please use Lorem Ipsum to make a paper that looks like a real one. This is due on July 12th at 11:59 PM.' Below the text box are icons for undo, redo, and link, and buttons for 'Record Audio' and 'Record Video'. On the right, the 'Evaluation & Feedback' sidebar is visible. It includes a 'File submission' section, a 'Rubrics' section with a dropdown menu showing 'Core Competencies', and sections for 'Learning Objectives', 'Annotation Tools', and 'Turnitin Integration'. At the bottom of the sidebar, there is a 'Manage Turnitin' link. At the bottom of the main editor area, there is a 'Save and Close' button, a 'Save' button, a 'Cancel' button, and a 'Visible' toggle switch. A red arrow points to the 'Save and Close' button.

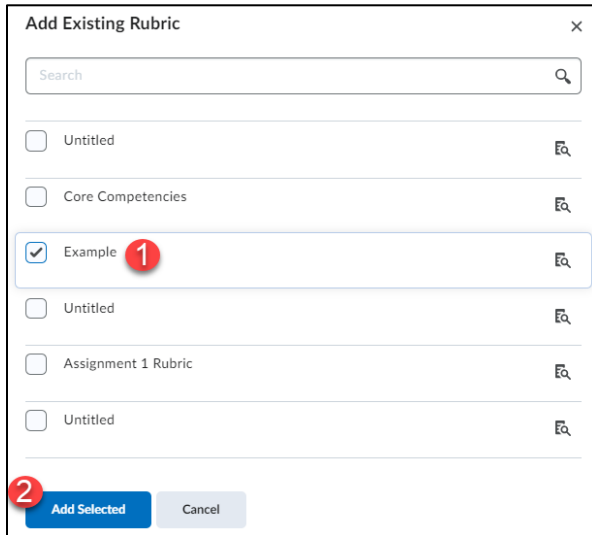

The rubric is now linked to your Dropbox!

Link to a Discussion Topic:

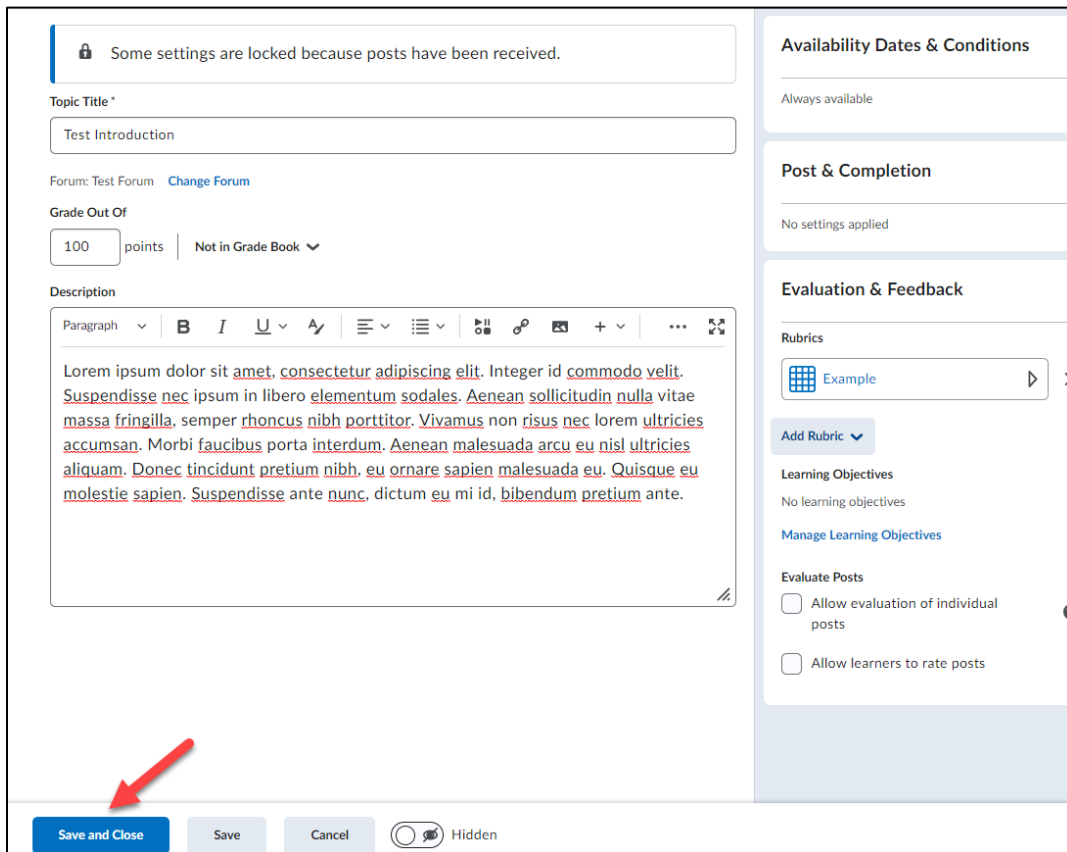

1. From the Assessment tab (appears whenever you edit or create a discussion topic) of a discussion topic and click the Add Rubric button.

The screenshot shows the discussion topic editor interface. On the left, the 'Topic Title' field contains 'Test Introduction'. Below it, the 'Forum' is set to 'Test Forum' and the 'Grade Out Of' is set to '100 points'. The 'Description' field contains a large block of Lorem Ipsum text. On the right, the 'Evaluation & Feedback' sidebar is visible. It includes a 'Rubrics' section with an 'Add Rubric' button. A red arrow points to the 'Add Rubric' button. Below the 'Add Rubric' button, there is a dropdown menu with options 'Create New' and 'Add Existing'. The 'Add Existing' option is highlighted. Below the dropdown menu, there are two checkboxes: 'Allow evaluation of individual posts' and 'Allow learners to rate posts'.

2. Select the rubric you would like to link to the discussion topic (1) and click the Add Selected button (2).

3. Make sure the rubric appears under the rubrics section of the discussion topic's properties tab and click the Save and Close button.

The rubric is now linked to your discussion topic!

Adding a rubric to a Virtual Classroom Assignment:

1. When creating the virtual classroom assignment locate the evaluation type and change the type to rubric.

The image shows two side-by-side screenshots of the 'Create Group Assignment' form. The left screenshot shows the 'General' section with 'Assignment Name (required)', 'Due Date (optional)', 'Evaluation Type' (set to 'Percentage'), and 'Instructions'. A red arrow points to the 'Evaluation Type' dropdown. The right screenshot shows the same form with the 'Rubric' option selected in the 'Evaluation Type' dropdown. A red arrow points to the 'Rubric' option.

2. Next select the rubric that you want to use in the section to the right of the Evaluation type section. If you do not have a rubric created or need to create a new rubric, proceed to the next step.

The image shows a screenshot of the 'Create Group Assignment' form. The 'Rubric' dropdown menu is open, showing 'Rubric Example'. A red arrow points to the 'Rubric Example' option. Another red arrow points to the 'This field is required' error message below the dropdown.

3. To create a new rubric, click the 3 dots to the right of the rubric selection and click on configure rubrics.

The image shows two side-by-side screenshots of the rubric selection process. The left screenshot shows the 'Rubric' dropdown menu with a red arrow pointing to the three dots. The right screenshot shows the dropdown menu with the 'Configure rubrics' option selected. A red arrow points to the 'Configure rubrics' option.

- On the bottom right of the page click on the add button to expand it and then click on the blue plus to create a new rubric.

- When creating the rubric enter the rubric name (1) then enter the description for each row and column (2), enter a total point value for each column (3), enter a description for each row item (4), assign a point value for each row item (5), click the plus sign on either the row or column to add an additional section (6), or click on the trashcan icon to delete a row or column (7).
